Tyler Oberg joins Rusing Lopez & Lizardi as a member of the firm's litigation department. Prior to joining RL&L, Tyler served as a Judicial Law Clerk for several years in both Superior Court and the Court of Appeals for the State of Arizona, Division II.

As a law clerk for the Honorable Scott McDonald in the Pima County Superior Court, Tyler provided critical support, researching complex legal issues, drafting judicial decisions, and assisting the court in ensuring fair and efficient trials. In this role, Tyler gained deeper understanding of all stages of trial-level adjudication and procedures.

Tyler then advanced to clerk for the Honorable Karl Eppich in the Court of Appeals for the State of Arizona in Tucson where he further refined his legal research and writing skills drafting appellate opinions. At the Court of Appeals, Tyler and gained extensive experience evaluating appellate briefs, sophisticated legal arguments, and appellate strategy.

Working in the Arizona courts at both the trial and appellate levels has enriched Tyler's approach to handling cases, and too, providing his clients with nuanced insights and comprehensive legal support.
