aclark@rllaz.com

Aaron Clark represents plaintiffs and defendants in commercial litigation disputes.

Prior to joining Rusing Lopez & Lizardi, Aaron represented clients in a diverse array of complex litigation matters including professional liability, construction defect, premise liability, personal injury defense, civil appeals, and other business litigation matters.

Aaron Clark graduated from the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law in 2022 where he attended on a full-tuition scholarship and served as a member of the Corporate & Business Law Journal's executive team. After graduating, Aaron worked on the legal team for Arizona Governor Doug Ducey where he assisted with crucial aspects of the transition process to the Hobbs administration. Aaron subsequently clerked for the Honorable Jeffery Sklar at the Arizona Court of Appeals where he assisted the court in drafting several published appellate decisions and gained significant insight into how judges evaluate and decide cases.

After his judicial clerkship, Aaron joined a nationwide law firm where he handled a broad spectrum of civil litigation matters including professional liability, premise liability, construction defect, personal injury defense, civil appeals, and other business litigation matters. At Rusing Lopez & Lizardi, Aaron draws upon his litigation experience and zealously advocates for clients entangled in litigation and civil appeals.

Personal

Aaron is an avid listener of podcasts and enjoys learning about history, culture, politics, philosophy and economics. He also enjoys spending time at coffee shops and exploring hiking trails with his soon-to-be wife.
